RADING crowding in the city of Victoria. The papers showing what had already been done or proposed in the matter had been circulated, and Mr. Francis had made one of his characteristic minutes upon them, in which the Secretary, the Government, and the Board are "slated" all round. The minute will bear repetition. "Incomplete-Does not state what Committee of this Board is sitting, why it is sitting, or what it has done. Does not show the present state of the law. The papers, such as they are, show a terrible state of affairs. When living is cheap the population increases and industries are multiplied, but with high rents and the conseprice of commodities progress is proportionately retarded. In dealing with the must be duly considered. The problem have to splye is how to provide the labouring classes with suitable and sufficient house accommodation at reasonable rates. If the solution is to prove satisfactory the question will have to be dealt with in a broad and liberal spirit. On the whole it is well we think, that the attack proposed to be made a few years ago on individual coolie houses was military stores and supplies to the various not carried into effect. Civiliation is sometimes a failure. It seems to have collapsed lamentably in the kingdom of the Nalous, in Senegal. The enlightened mouarch of that realm, King Dinah Salifou, visited Paris during the Exhibition, became the friend of the Shah, was made a Knight of the Legion of Honour, and was highly impressed with the advantages of the social conditions which had enabled him to have so good a time. He therefore determined to introduce French polish intojects were dry and did not take kindly to European restraints. Tired of constant efforts to alter their manners and their dress, they have made short work of Dinah Salifou, who has been go hered to his unbreached fathers by way either of prussic seid or the baw-string : the details are lacking. It is a touching tragedy; and is one more proof that they who have sujoyed the sweets of a semi-savage life do not care a brass furthing for the supposed advantages of civilization.

IMPERIAL QUARTO. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical services this Work stands unrivalled. All the new. words which the Chinese have of late years been Shipping—Officers of the Coasting Steamers of compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and inscience generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon thom, are China Mer. S. N. Co. Miscellaneous Coast Strs. here given in extense. Each and every word in The LIST OF RESIDENTS now contains fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both FIFTEEN THOUSAND AND FIVE HUNDRED the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best arranged under one Alphabet in the strictest principle hitherto attained. The typography order, the initials as well as the surnames displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size The MAPS and PLANS have been mostly of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearnes not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurat's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

A description of Chinese Festivals, &c., with For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested n China it cannot but be invaluable occasion.

It comprises upwards of two thousand large having commercial or political relations with the 4 Vols. IMPERIAL QUARTO, Price, $20. A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made
